Dear Kim,

We have collected $11,100 and 34,290 signatures. This month we are going to focus on making change at the federal level. When that happens, our legislators are much more likely to listen to our cries and change Florida's laws.

Patient Spotlight

By Kelli Biferie Hastings

"So now Jeffrey was dealing with pain up and down his spine and pain and muscle spasms traveling into both legs and feet. He was prescribed two narcotic pain medications with well-documented side effects: Fentanyl (an opiate 100 times more potent than morphine) and Oxycodone (another opiate). The medications took the edge off the back pain but did not touch the neuropathy of his feet and legs."

Marijuana Policy Project (MPP) Needs Your Help

MPP is working on a campaign to change laws at the Federal level. They need each of you to contact your federal legislators and ask for change. They have created a program called the 10 letters toolkit. It is ten pre-written letters for you to get signed by your friends and family, and then mail to their representatives. Don't feel you have to stop at 10. If you can get more signed, please do! We need to support them in this effort. Next month, we will be sending you another set of letters to send to our state legislators. We can get the laws changed with an effective letter writing campaign.

We either need an existing non-profit corporation to help educate the public, or we need to start one on our own. If you can help in either capacity, please simply reply to this newsletter.

Television changes the world

There is a very simple way we can help change the Federal laws. We have to get a lot of mainstream media coverage. We do that by contacting our favorite shows and asking them to do a show on medical marijuana. It will take less than five minutes of your time every day. Please make it a priority each day to send each of these shows a message asking them to do a show on medical marijuana. They reach millions of viewers, who otherwise would not feel the need to take action. Why everyday? Oprah, for example, will do a show after receiving 10,000 emails on a subject. While one email is helpful, daily emails will really accomplish our goal in a timely manner.

Do What You Can With Free Supplies

Some people are able to help us collect signatures, but can't donate. Some are able to donate money, but can't volunteer. Every person has the ability to help and must participate for us to reach our goal. Don't just sit by and wait for everyone else to do something. Please, do what you can. Thanks to generous donations we have the ability to send you supplies for free. Simply reply to this newsletter with your address and how many petitions you can get signed.

MPP is the organization that helps states get their laws changed. Helping them today to encourages them to help us in the future. Make sure to write your federal legislators.

Thank you for your continued efforts and support!

Sincerely,

Kimberly Russell
